EMOTIONS
OPPORTUNITIES FOR PA	- WAKE UP EARLY SO I CAN GET SOME WORK DONE + BETTER SHOWER TIME - LEAVE EARLY FOR CLASS SO I CAN LOOK AT THE LEC SLIDES IN ADV. - THINK OPTIMISTIC ABOUT EE 4363	- GO TO OHs TO GET HELP WITH HW - TALK WITH MY FREIND MORE BEFORE HIS 1PM CLASS - WATCH SOMETHING FUNNY IN BETWEEN CLASSES	THERE'S NOTHING TO IMPROVE HERE. I AM HAPPY WITH HOW IT IS NOW

I will admit, I am an optimistic person. This is why you don't see a lot of negative (red dots) on the map.

The only negative dot in the map is when I go to Computer Architecture class since it is my least favourite this far in the semester and the concern on my performance in the class.

The rest are positive or neutral because it's the things that I enjoy or it's basic life task that everyone does, it's nothing new or special... It's just basic.

QUESTIONS: How can I improve on my mood for Comp Arch? How can I think optimistic about it and not stress about the difficulty the class is?

JOURNEY MAP

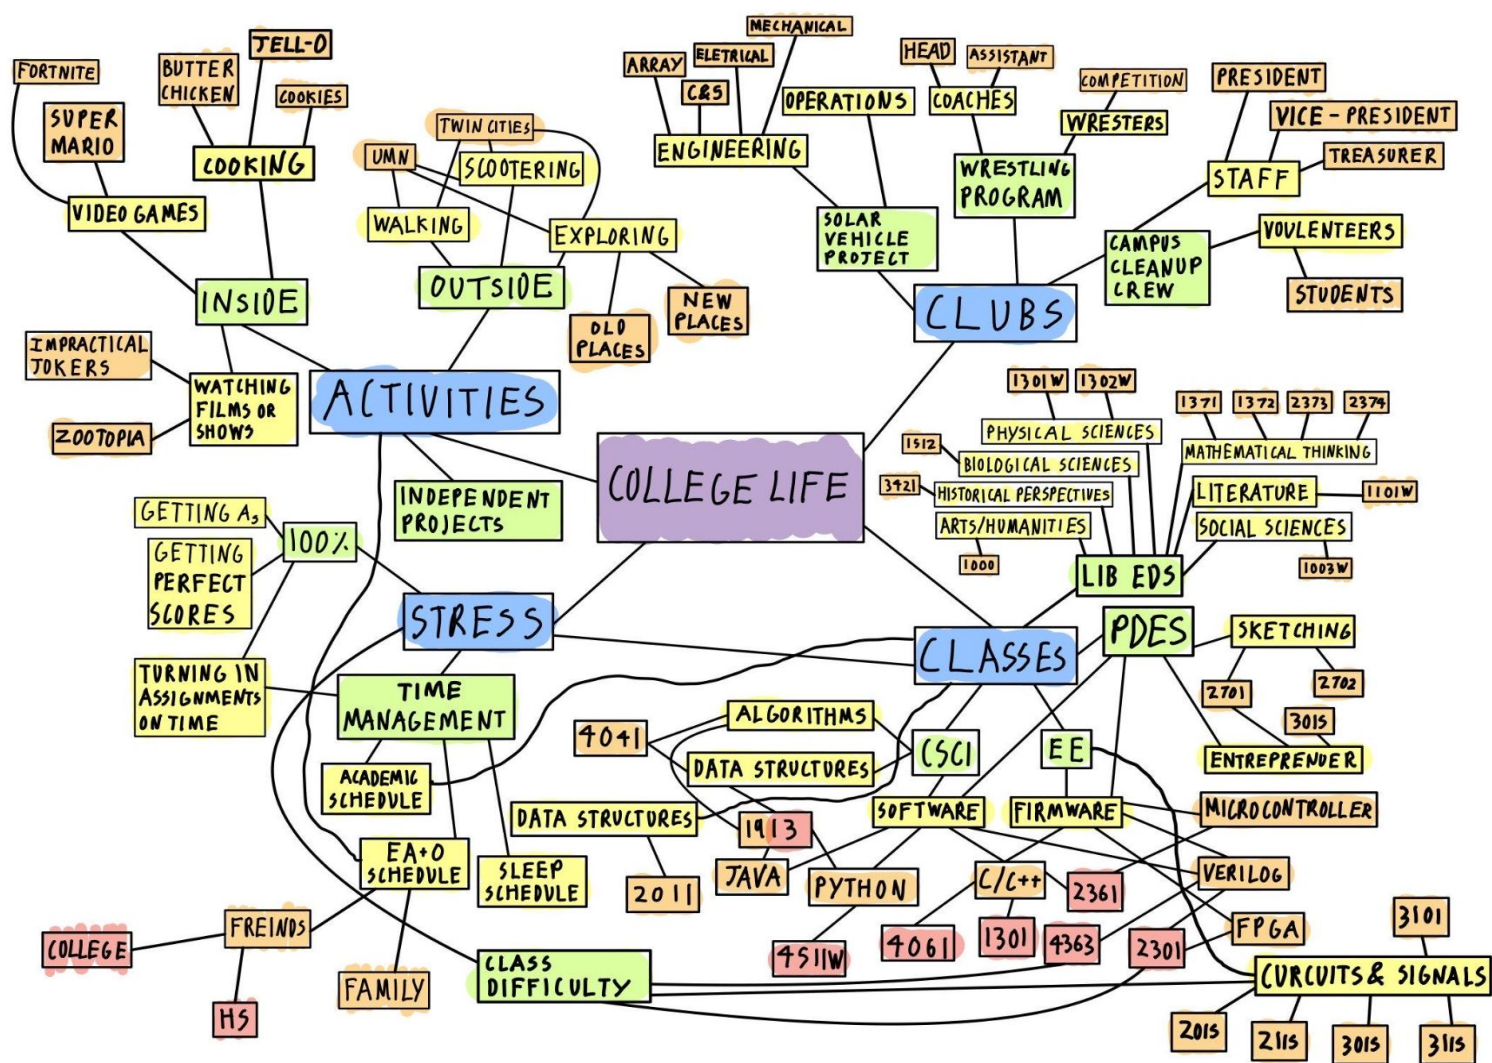

This is the same case as the previous slide. This is only one negative dot.

The negative dot on here is when I was working on my Engineering Ethics paper and I didn't want to redo the paper all over again.

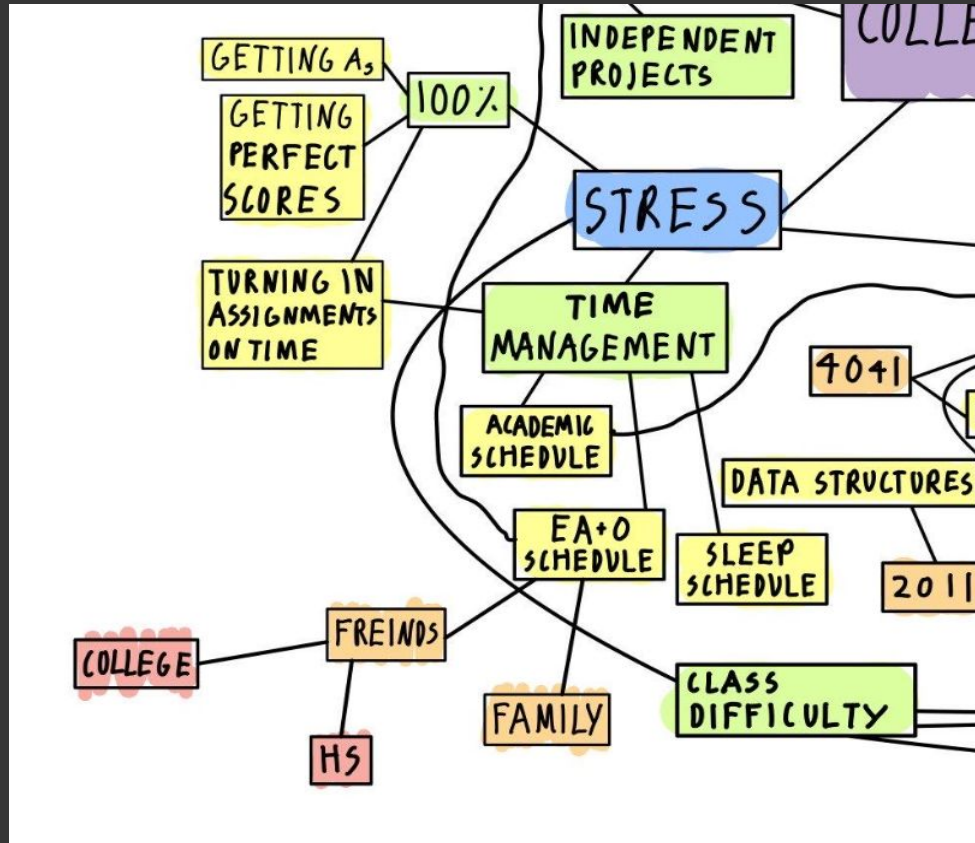

QUESTION: How can I appreciate doing homework with stressing about how difficult the paper is?

NOTE: This does not happen every Thursday.

MIND MAP

MIND MAP

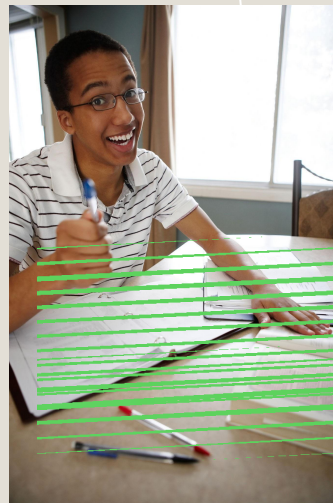

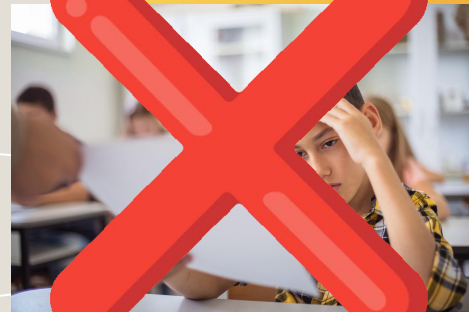

I decided to focus on the stress area

OPPORTUNITY AREA

STRESS - CLASS DIFFICULTY

- I am interested in this area because it applies to a ton of college students including me. It's easily relatable.
- As a TA and PA, I get how it feels as a student when you take a required class that is difficult or a class you want to take in your interest, but it is difficult. I want to change this.
- So I want to invent somethings that can make all students not stressed too much over the class not matter how difficult it is. I want students to relieve the stress over getting a good grade, their GPA, other academic factors, and the difficulty of the class.
- Target Audience: Students of all ages/grades and for those who are not in school or doing home-school

USER RESEARCH

INTERVIEW AND PURPOSE.

I will be interviewing 3 UMN students (1 that is a currently a student; 1 that is a UMN student, but currently doing a CO-OP right now; and 1 that is a graduate student going for his Masters/PHD) since my area is about STRESS - CLASS DIFFICULTY under College Life. I would like get their input on what classes they are taking now and took in the past to see what the class is about, why it is/was hard for them when they take/took that class, and how they overcome the difficult courses throughout the semester of the class.

NOTE: For private reasons, I am going to include the interview's faces in this slide. Also, I can only do them all on 2/11 due to their schedule

10 SILLY IDEAS

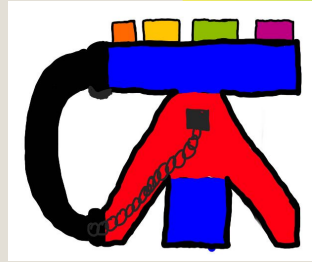

Idea 1

FOX SUPPORTS
An iPhone that helps study with subjects in a class that students are struggling to understand

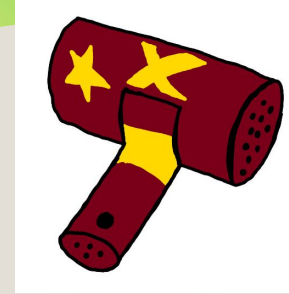

Idea 2

SCOOPSKI POTATO PROBLEMS
An app that can give you example problems based the topics you are learning to improve your knowledge

Idea 3

TA CALL-INS
Students getting the opportunity to call their TAs for the class to get help with homework problems and ask questions

Idea 4

OBJECTION ANSWER
A judge hammer that would tell you if you got the answer correct or incorrect. If you get it wrong, the hammer will tell the student the correct

Idea 5

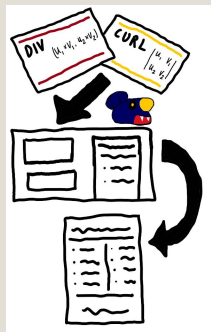

MR. CLEAN'S GRADE ERASER
Gives student the power to get rid off the worst grade they have in the class or remove an satisfying grade on their transcript

10 SILLY IDEAS

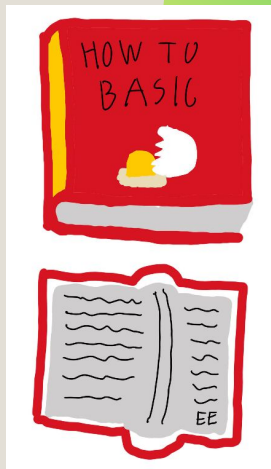

Idea 6

MR. Z's AI
A legal AI website for students to use to support their learning and writing (like grammarly), but it won't get out answers

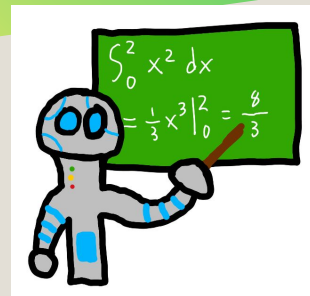

Idea 7

GAR-SHEETS
A website that helps students create cheat sheets or a quick summary of the lecture slides so students can avoid confusion and delay

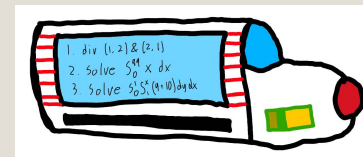

Idea 8

THE HOWTOBASIC BOOK ON ACADEMICS
A magic book that contains all the courses at your college with lecture slides and has a lot of practice problems

Idea 9

ROBO TEACH
When students are stress out on difficult subjects, ROBO TEACH can come to the rescue and help out for the student's success in the difficulty of the class. It's like ROZ from The Wild Robot but in an academic setting

Idea 10

BULLET EXAM
A model bullet train that can display and print past exams for that hard class and give students practice problems to get them prepare for upcoming exams

Thank you
